Why Halladay Located in Newark

It being essential that the general public should have full knowledge pertaining to the facts, regarding the removal of the Halladay Motors Corporation company to Newark, and as it is only our desire to have such facts become known, setting aside all theories or guesswork, we give the following statement:

We have outlined in our previous statement the history of the Halladay from its beginning, setting forth reasons necessary for moving to a larger city, in order to make expansion which is absolutely necessary to a healthy, growing concern.

WE SELECTED NEWARK BECAUSE WE WERE SATISFIED THAT WE WERE WANTED, which was verified by the donation of ten acres of land by the Newark Chamber of Commerce. Not only did the Chamber of Commerce feel satisfied with the Halladay Motors Corporation company as shown by this donation, but in addition we came to Newark after being thoroughly investigated by the Chamber of Commerce of Bucyrus, through an audit of our books and a close investigation by its committee, which proof has been set forth by the following recommendations of the Bucyrus Chamber of Commerce:

"The Bucyrus Chamber of Commerce has made a thorough investigation of the Halladay Motors Corporation company and Mr. Huth personally, and have found both their moral and financial standing first class. The Chamber of Commerce has derived this information from an audit as of October 8th, 1919, made by Ernst & Ernst, certified public accountants of Cleveland, O., as well as by personal investigation made by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce concerning the past record of the Halladay Motors Corporation company and its present officers."

"Based on these facts, the Chamber of Commerce feels justified in recommending this proposition as a sound and conservative investment."

WE NOT ONLY SELECTED NEWARK because of all the preceding statements, but did so with the impression that it was a city located in the land of the free. Newark is well situated, near the coal fields, has good rail facilities, first class electric power, excellent labor conditions, and amusements for the workmen. We have also found the Chamber of Commerce to be progressive and willing to work in harmony. With all these advantages Newark should become a great city.

The Halladay company is doing more than it agreed. In the beginning we stated we would build a factory 60 by 800 feet. We are now erecting a factory 180 by 400 feet, which is a third larger than anticipated.

We are not coming to Newark as a new institution. We do not offer Halladay stock simply on paper. We have a factory operating at the present time in Attica, which is free from incumbrance. In this factory we are something like $150,000 worth of material, besides the buildings which are practically new, containing 17,500 square feet of floor space, three acres of land, our own saws, equipment, machinery, etc.

Our main production is sold for the next three years to come, regardless of the amount of production. We have purchased in addition to our ten acres of land in Newark, which was donated us, seven more adjoining acres. As the material arrives it is paid for.

We trust that by coming to Newark we will prove our worth in a very short while, as our intentions are one of the best. We trust we will be received likewise through our distribution of the Halladay cars in a world market, it will bring in hundreds of thousands of dollars to Newark.

We are satisfied that the Halladay will not only produce satisfactory returns to those who have invested with us but undoubtedly the company will do its best toward making a bigger and greater Newark.

T. E. HUTH, President.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE ADOPTS RULES

Service Committee Discusses Ground Rules to Control Play During Baseball Season—Discuss Basketball Banquet.

At a meeting of the service committee of several plants at the Y. M. C. A. last night a few things left undone in the base ball league rules were cleared up. Also some other matters concerning a fellowship gathering for the basketball players and noon-hour recreation at the plants was discussed.

Two outstanding ground rules for the Twilight League were acted on. An over-throw at first third home plate will entitle the base runners to one base. A flag or other easily seen mark or placed on the tennis court fence in a straight line with second base and home plate shall determine that a batter who knocks a ball into the tennis courts to the right of it is entitled to two bases, an out-batter who knocks a ball to the left of it is entitled to three bases. High school boys will be considered eligible to play ball but of course must be listed as non-employees.

The eligible list of all teams must be handed into the secretary of the league at least 24 hours before the third game on the schedule is played. All non-employees on the eligible list must be plainly marked "non-employee." The playing of the two non-employees in any game of the big teams or the playing of four non-employees in any game of the smaller teams will prevent a substitute or a pinch hitter from being any other than a regular employee.

The industrial secretary will do some scouting in the next couple of weeks to determine how much noon-hour recreation can be successfully carried on this summer at the plants.

A committee is in the formation to look after the basketball banquet which is tentatively set for the week of April 19, pending on the outcome of the league championship and the industrial champions versus Old Y Champs game.

PAINTERS IDLE; WANT WAGES OF $1.25 HOUR

Cleveland, April 1.—Approximately 2,000 union painters idle today as a result of refusing to accept an offer of $1.12 an hour commencing May first as their 1920 wage scale and which was believed to have been agreed to yesterday. The men are demanding $1.25 an hour. The old scale was 80 cents.

Three hundred drivers employed by the American Railway Express company today called an independent walk-out because the company refused their demands for a flat $25 per month wage increase.

EASTER FLOWERS ARE PLENTIFUL; PRICES NORMAL

The approach of spring and the arrival of the Easter season is heralded by the lavish display of Easter flowers. One of the attractive displays is the immense cone of flowers arranged in the Arcade fountain by the Duoro flower shop. Mixed with beautiful hyacinths in purple and white, the rows alternate, showing stately Easter lilies, tulips, jonquils, baby orchids and roses, the whole a gorgeous mass of color and fragrance.

Easter flowers are plentiful this year and the prices are approximately the same as asked in other Easter seasons.

ARMY CHAPLAIN SPEAKS TO CROWD

Lecture on New Army and Music By Jazz Band Is Added Feature at Auditorium.

Chaplain Samuel B. Knowles of the 10th Cavalry, Fort Bliss, Tex., and the band of the 10th Cavalry, took part in the program at the Auditorium last night. The band gave excellent numbers. The chaplain spoke of the responsibility of the people in making the army what it ought to be, and suggested that it is as important to have a full army as to have the city correctly policed. He also emphasized the main points of army education, which are, first, a man in the army who can neither read nor write is considered an illiterate and is forced to take the course prescribed for such. More than that a man may take any or all of the work of any or all the grades up to and including a high school course.

Still more, the new army offers training to every man in any business which he may desire. And all of this means therefore that the man who enters the service comes back at the end of his enlistment a better man physically, mentally and morally. The chaplain certainly held the attention of the audience, and the manager, Mr. Fenberg, remarked that he should be in vaudeville, as he had the people thoroughly interested from the start, and impressed indelibly the message on the minds, which he brought.

3600 AUTO TAGS ARE ISSUED HERE

Mayor Sends In $35,000 to State Registrar For Licenses Sold to Licking County Car Owners.

Mayor Atherton was busy today sending out tags both at the old and the new prices. Today extended tags were granted auto owners to get their tags due to the inability of the state department to furnish sufficient tags for distribution in the state. People who have not operated their cars this year can now obtain licenses at three-fourths of the regular price.

The mayor stated that he had taken in about $35,000 from the sale of tags this year. This included 3,200 passenger cars, 400 trucks, 40 motor cycles and 10 trailer tags.

MAY CALL VOTE TODAY IN DELAWARE ASSEMBLY

Dover, Del., March 1.—Representative Hart, who was spirited away yesterday by suffrage workers, returned to the city house this morning. He introduced the suffrage resolution and has it, in charge in the house. Hart announced that he will call up the resolution for a vote this afternoon. This is in accordance, he said, with a written pledge made by Mrs. Thompson, leader of the anti-suffragists, late last night. No change occurred in the situation over night. The defeat of the amendment in the house is looked for by a vote of at least 23 of not 25 against suffrage out of a membership of 35.

The Senate, however, the suffragists claim a majority of one, will vote on the resolution after the house has acted.

COLUMBUS HAS HALF MILLION DOLLAR FIRE

Columbus, April 1.—A spectacular fire this morning in the wholesale district practically destroyed four-story brick buildings located on Chestnut between High and Third streets. For a time the flames threatened to spread to two other large wholesale warehouses but by 9 o'clock the blaze was under control. The damage is estimated to exceed $500,000.

Occupants of the four burned buildings were the Erner and Hopkins Electrical company, The Livingston Seed company, The Davis Cigar company and the Simmons Shoe company.

The fire started of an unknown cause in the basement of the Erner and Hopkins building. When the first firemen arrived the entire first floor of that building was a mass of flames. Every piece of fire apparatus in the city was called to the scene.

Two firemen were injured, one seriously. The loss if confined to the four brick buildings would exceed $500,000, it was estimated. The blaze originated in the basement of the Erner and Hopkins company building.

AUTO BANDIT SHOT BY OWNER OF CAR

Akron, April 1.—Sprouts of flames in the darkness, the crack of pistols and the roar of automobiles racing through South Akron streets Wednesday night told citizens of a daring duel with automobile bandits by Clarence S. Norris, a tire service manager.

A bullet-riddled steering wheel, blood on the tool box of the captured bandit's machine, and a battered hat bore testimony, a police headquarters Thursday.

Norris first spotted the two bandits when he discovered them in the act of sealing his touring car. He hailed a service car and gave chase.

After a short chase the bandits leaped from the stolen car and fled in the dark.

DON'T FEARE THE PROFESSOR

Snake Expert Set Out of Rather Tight Fix in a Semanet Clover Mannie.

There is a certain professor of natural history who delights in propounding catch questions to his class, and one young fellow, who had been caught by one, determined to get even. At the next class, therefore, he said gravely:

"Professor, you have made a special study of snakes; have you not?"

"Yes, I think I am fairly well informed as to that branch," the professor responded.

"Then, professor, you can undoubtedly inform me on a point which, while doubtless simple, puzzles me. May I ask you a question?"

"The professor began to feel uneasy, but there was nothing to reply but 'yes.'"

"Then, sir, what I desire to know is, where does a snake's tail begin?" the young fellow asked gravely.

The professor was silent for a moment, and a titter began to run over the room, which increased to a roar as the professor replied calmly:

"That is quite simple; it begins at the end of the snake which is not the head."

WILL TUNNEL UNDER STRAIT

Japanese Authorities Said to Have Decided Upon Engineering Feat of Magnitude.

Several months ago announcement was made that the imperial government railways of Japan intended to build a tunnel under the Shimonoeki strait.

This strait separates the main island of the Japanese group, Honshu, from the smaller island of Kishuu at the south. It is now crossed by a car ferry, which is rapidly becoming insufficient to meet the demands that are made upon it.

Two years are to be spent in studying the geological formation of the sea bed in the strait and in drafting of the general plan of work in preparation for the actual undertaking of tunneling, so that the real work will not commence until 1921.

Engineers and workmen will be sent to America and Europe to make a study of what has been achieved in these countries in the way of tunnel engineering. The line is to be seven miles long, one mile of which will be entirely under the sea.

The approximate cost of the undertaking will be about $10,000,000 and the work is expected to be completed in 1928.—Scientific American.

What's in a Number?

An aero squadron, preparatory to the start for the front, was being initiated again into the mysteries of close-order drill. While most of the men knew every nut, bolt and square inch of canvas on the planes, they were more than hazy about the forgotten details of their apprenticeship days in the army.

"Squads right!" bellowed the commanding officer.

The majority of the squadron managed to get there somehow or other, but No. 3, rear rank, fourth squad, was totally lost. He maneuvered aimlessly about the field for a time, trying to find his place, and finally walked into the arms of the captain.

"Here, you, where do you belong? What's your number?"

The buck snapped out of his trance. "No. 284526, sir," he announced.—The Home Sector.

Small Girl's Criticism.

Little five-year-old Lois had been told not to be in such a hurry when she put away her playthings, to take a little more care and pack them straight. One evening her grandma was taking her home after dark. As they were walking along the street lights were turned on. She looked up and asked: "Grandma, who turned all of those lights on at once?" On being told a man at the electric light plant turned them on, she said: "Well, then, who turns on all the lights in the sky?" Grandma told her God did that. Noticing that the new moon was tilted at a different angle from what she had noticed before, she said rather disgustedly: "Well, I wish God would take just a little more time when he turns on the lights and turn that moon on straight while he is at it."

This Half-Dollar Rare.

Ever since the news that a silver half-dollar of 1853 brought $2,500 was published throughout the country a few years ago, there has been a greater misconception as to this coin than any other ever struck by the United States mints. This arises from the fact that there are two kinds of half-dollars of 1853. The rare variety has no arrows at the dates and there is no sunburst on its reverse.

Only two specimens of this coin are known to be in existence. Half-dollars of 1853 with arrows at date and sunbursts on the reverses are very numerous, however, and they have frequently dashed the hopes of holders who were unfamiliar with the distinction between the two varieties of the coin.

A Poetist's Observation.

"We have no army of the unemployed."

"I don't know," rejoined Mr. Gower. "After watching a few of the helpers who have come along in connection with various kinds of work, I have concluded that we have a large number in a state of unemployment. The difference is that they get paid for it."

You never can tell. Even the Chinese, who are a man of iron.

FILM FLICKERS

The Goldwyn organization recently turned the roof of the Hotel Walton, Philadelphia, into an impromptu picture studio, and before an audience of fans and motion picture showmen numbering more than a thousand demonstrated how the "movies" are made.

Blanche Sweet has just begun production in Los Angeles on her next screen offering—"Leona Goes A-Huntin'." under direction of Henry King. The picture and not the hunting is last referred to.

Nazimova's next Metro picture will be "L'Homme Rich."

H. Thompson Rich has completed his first scenario for Metro, a pictureization of Eugene Walter's drama, "Fine Feathers," which will be May Allison's next feature production following "The Cheater" upon which she is now working.

Wallace Reid began his new picture, "Too Much Speed," directed by Sam Wood, with the scenes taken at the Los Angeles Speedway races.

The once-famous farce, "What Happened to Jones," will be brought to the screen by Paramount with Bryant Washburn in the leading role.

Johnny Hines has been employed by Master-Film to play the star part in translation of Sowell Ford's character, "Torchy," to the screen.

Metroland has completed "At the Mercy of Thiering," the novel of years ago that is still so well remembered, and has begun production of another screen play, "Desert Dreamers."

Forrest Hyland has completed "The Mystery of Elsinore," with Mitchell Lewis playing the featured role.

Sooner or later the screen gets "em"—both play and novels. Now comes the news that the Charles are going to make into a feature comedy "The Lones." The successful "Lonesome" story.

Mark Prevost, a native of Montreal, Quebec, is a man of iron.

is regarded by motion picture students as another evidence of Mack Sennett's ability to pick winners. She is rapidly forging to the front as an artist of rare talents.

Regardless of everything or anything to the contrary notwithstanding, Jack Dempsey is going ahead with the serial he is producing for Pathe, and has now reached the 10th episode of "Daredevil Jack."

Kalla Pasha as a sort of Julian Eltinge will flourish in skirts in "Fresh From the City" soon to be released. As an expression of fabulous comedy, this ex-wrestler in petticoats is a scream.

Clara Kimball Young will bring to the screen "Mid-Channel," the stage play by Arthur Wing Pinero, in which Ethel Barrymore made one of her greatest personal successes.

Louise Fazenda, besides being one of the most popular of comedienne, is making a reputation as an artist in letters. Her recent literary contribution to "Classic" was enthusiastically accepted, paid for and more of the same kind of "copy" demanded. It is called "Impressions."

Of spring fever I think I've a touch.
And good gracious, my feelings are soured.
That for work I've no mind.
To do naught I'm inclined.
And even of that not too much.

An Unfolding Threat.
Aunt Caline says: "Other day I am Maggie Zoon went up to Newark, which Maggie ast me to go along of her to help her fit measure for a new dress. They was a offle cross looking woman settin' jest across the ile from us accompanied by a ganglin' lookin' boy with a terrible dirty neck. Pretty soon the conductor come along an' an' looked some sharp at the boy an' says he, 'You'll have to pay for this boy,' he says. 'Well,' says the woman, with a scowl, 'I won't pay for him,' she says, an' turned to look outen the window. 'If you refuse to pay for the boy,' says the conductor, 'I'll stop the train an' put him off,' he says. 'All right, put him off if it gives you any pleasure,' she says. 'It's all the same to me,' she says. 'You ot to no he's too big to ride free,' says the conductor. 'How old is he?' says he. 'Lord bless the man!' snaps the woman. 'How should I no? I never seen him afore,' she says.

Spring.
"I'll never know when spring has sprung," said Eustace Rufus Lines.

When you think spring knocks at the door,

When you hear dandelions roar,
You'll know that spring is here.

Did You Know?
That there is an obelisk about eight miles from Cairo, Egypt, that remains have made conditions far worse than they were a year ago. The allied powers must get together, agree on peace settlements that are just and practical, and then insist that they be carried out to the letter.

Will Hays told interviewers after the Republican rally in Columbus in February that he was greatly pleased by the harmony that existed in the party in Ohio. Mr. Hays should come back now and see how the harmony has progressed.

Talking economy while spending the public's money like drunken sailors, Congress makes one think of the poker player who is "talking loose and playing tight."

THE PAPER SHORTAGE.
(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)
The question of shortage of print paper is something not generally understood outside the publishing and printing business. People wonder why there should be a shortage and why increased production has not kept pace with increased consumption as in other lines. Here are some of the elements of the problem. The manufacturers of paper from wood fiber has developed within the last fifty years, but with accelerated speed during the last decade. The use of news print alone has increased more than 200 per cent in twenty years, although the newspapers use but 22 per cent of the total of wood pulp paper produced. In six years the price in large quantities has advanced from two cents a pound to five cents. Ten years ago the United States produced its entire supply of pulp wood, but now it imports two-thirds its consumption. This means added cost of production. We bought from Canada last year 1,400,000 tons of pulp and prices advanced from $10 a cord to as high as $25. Canada has increased the number of her pulp mills 57 per cent in ten years, while only one news print plant has been constructed in the United States since 1909. Paper mills cannot follow the receding timber supply into the forests as do the saw mills. Much pulpwod is now freighted 500 miles.

There is much criticism of the newspapers for waste of paper, but the above statistics show that it is not newspaper consumption which is making the wood pulp supply inadequate to the demand. The newspapers only consume 22 per cent. The newspaper publishers are themselves suffering from the high prices and the difficulty of keeping supplied with stock as a result of the tremendous increase in paper consumption in a multitude of other forms than publishing papers. Seventy-eight per cent of all the paper is consumed in some other way. No possible economy or restriction of use on the part of newspaper publishers can put an end to either the shortage or the high prices, else they would have been ended before now. The matter is deeper than that. The American forestry association suggests several remedies, such as the development of the pulp industry in the great forests of the northwest and Alaska, the promotion of reforestation in cutover areas, by propagating forest areas, and by more care in collecting and using old newspapers, magazines, and paper scraps of all kinds in the making of new paper. The latter is an important contribution that could be made by every household and at a profit. There is no reason why millions of dollars should go up in smoke every year through the burning of waste paper.

Pointed Observations
The German revolutions are but the death throes of militarism, which, like a decapitated serpent, misses its head.
—Baltimore American

The dollar buys only 34 cents' worth of stuff, right now, but don't forget that when it is invested it draws interest on 100 cents.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

FOR THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.
(Philadelphia Record.)
Informally the League of Nations—for such a League exists, although we are not in it—replied to the suggestions of the Allied Supreme Council that it should administer the Ottoman Empire as a mandatory, that it had no means of enforcing its commands. The league is to consider this week formally the proposal that it accept the mandate. There is nothing else for it to do, and it has the same means of giving effect to its decrees that it would have if the question were one of restraining opposition from attacking another. Always fearful of Germany, France insisted that the league should have an allied army at its command. No other nation being in visible danger, no other was disposed to contribute to an international army. But the covenant of the league provides that the council shall advise what action ought to be taken; it will then be seen whether the members of the league will act on the advice.

England, France and Italy have the Ottoman Empire on their hands. If America will not help them, as many Americans would like, then they have got to solve the problem themselves. They would like to take such portions of Turkey as they desire and then wash their hands of all responsibility for the rest. But circumstances are too strong for them. They hoped the Turks would stop murdering till they could make peace with the Constantinople government, and then they could get away and disclaim responsibility for what followed. But the Turks couldn't wait. The massacres could not be postponed.

The European foreign offices have no undue regard for humanitarian considerations or moral obligations, but they have a little regard for appearances, and they cannot quite make peace with Turkey while it is murdering the Christian population. The three nations will not trust each other to administer Turkey; they are too jealous of each other's political prestige and trade opportunities. But in the league they act jointly, and one of them cannot get ahead of the others. It is not impossible that the league might engage one of the small neutrals—its expenses being paid—to police Turkey for the present.

The task will not be a very long one if the league will provide the Armenian people with a political existence, a sufficient territorial extension, with ports on the Black Sea and the Mediterranean, and a supply of arms. Under these conditions the Armenian nation would establish itself and flourish; and if England occupies Mesopotamia, which is certain, and France occupies Syria, which is nearly certain, and Armenia is independent and protected for a matter of five or six years, and Italy has the region about Adalia, and Greece has Smyrna and the adjacent district, the Turk may be sovereign over what remains, living in constant peril, but with the straits internationalized, without any great harm to anybody. The allies have got to choose between something of this sort and making a treaty of peace with a murderer while he is practicing his trade; and that is not good form.

Whistling girls and crowing hens may merely prove how crude they are, standing upon the same spot where it was erected, nearly twenty-five centuries before the birth of Christ? The inscription contains merely the five appellations of the Pharaoh Uortasen I, to which is added a formula of astronomical significance.

CXII.—Romance at Work.

Miss Caldwell's prophecy regarding Mrs. Warrington's discretion proved correct.

During the remainder of the voyage, the red-haired woman absented herself from the deck when the little missionary occupied Bennett's stateroom chair, and as she remained there resolutely, despite choppy seas and one thunderstorm, Mrs. Warrington's appearances were negligible.

Finally she confined her promenades to the deck when Bennett was likely to be walking the deck and smoking after-dinner cigars, but Keitha immediately forestalled her move by accompanying Bennett, clinging to his arm, and smiling interestingly, though the chill of the tropic night cut through her light wrap and the dampness penetrated the tulle scarf which protected her coiffure.

Keitha hated herself for this watchfulness. She felt contemptible somehow and sometimes very weary. She wondered if she must always stand between Bennett and other women, physically as well as spiritually. Must she be a sort of guard dog, a formidable enough apparition to drive away rivals?

But Bennett apparently was unaware of the method of her companionship. He accepted it with enthusiasm, holding the soft arm she slipped through his close against his side, and bending with evident devotion to catch the remarks she made above the lash of the night sea.

"I think these two are falling in love," remarked Miss Caldwell to Copley-Warner one warm night when she had broken her general rule and ventured on deck after dinner.

In the light that streamed out of the open door of the salon, the Englishman regarded her in amazement.

"Haven't they always been in love with each other?" he gasped.

"They have—but they don't know it yet," she replied crisply.

"What do you know about love, Martha Caldwell?" demanded the man. "You who live for the dashed heathen?"

The little missionary turned her head away.

"Maybe I live for—the dashed heathen," because there isn't anybody else to live for," she said.

He laid a hand on her arm hesitantly.

"Martha," he said softly, "we've been crossing this old pond for the last twenty years. I dare say. We know each other pretty well, don't we?"

She nodded without turning her head. Copley-Warner sighed, but he did not remove his hand.

"It's very lonely now," he said slowly. "There's nobody in England since the boy's gone. I won't be making the trip again likely."

Keitha drew Bennett away from the vicinity of their stateroom chairs.

"Don't disturb them—the old dears! I knew it since the minute I first saw them!" she cried ecstatically.

"Knew what? What old dears?" demanded Bennett in bewilderment.

"Miss Caldwell and Copley-Warner, of course," replied Keitha with scorn. "I knew they were in love with each other all the time."

"What?" ejaculated Bennett.

"You blind creature!" scoffed Keitha. "I don't believe you know love—real love—when you see it."

"I knew it when I saw you," Bennett drew the hand on his arm against his heart and held it there where Keitha could feel its quick beating. "I know it now more than ever."

Mrs. Vivian Catherine Banner, aged 69 years, wife of Thomas B. Banner, died Wednesday afternoon at 4:25 o'clock at the home of her son, James A. Banner, 315 Maholm street after a lingering illness brought on by pneumonia.

Funeral services will be held at the Summit Station Methodist church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock (old time). Burial will be made in Reynoldson cemetery. There will be short services at the home in Maholm street at 1 o'clock (Eastern time).

In Memorial.

Legat William Jackson, the son of Dr. William L. Jackson, and his wife, Caroline B. Jackson, was born August 26, 1907, in Newark, Ohio.

He entered the public schools of this city at the Central building. He was in attendance here until the removal of the family to a residence where he entered for a time the Keller building. He attended North Fourth street building and was a scholar there at the time of his death.

From early infancy, he showed a tender love and affection for his parents, especially for his father. His love and affection for his father, manifested itself in many ways. He was especially desirous of being near him whenever possible. He was the companion of his father in their walks and rambles and upon little outings. For Logan was essentially an out-of-doors child, loving the open in all its varied moods.

Like almost every healthy normal child he engaged in all the out-of-doors sports, taking keen delight in them. He had a keen mind, and was quite apt in his studies. He took keen delight in remaining in his father's office, reading, while the doctor was absent upon his calls. Then when the day's work was over, with great delight, suffusing his little face he was ready to return with him to the parental roof. He held his father in deepest reverence, and showed the keenest understanding of the duties of a physician.

He entered into rest despite all that skilled physicians and kind and loving care could do, at the age of 12 years, 7 months and 5 days.

A child of unusual promise, has gone to his eternal reward. One who had, even in his early youth, a high conception of honor and integrity. He leaves to mourn his going home, his sorrowing parents, one brother and one sister, together with a host of friends and relatives.

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord." Sam 12:23. "But now he is dead, wherever he should be, I can I bring him back again I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me."

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their sympathy shown us during the sickness and death of our dear son, Raymond Louis Suttley, and for the beautiful floral offering. Especially do we thank Rev. McCormick and Rev. Sparks for their words of comfort. Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Suttley.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS

TROTZKY TRAVELS IN STYLE

Red Army Chief Has De Luxe Train of 14 Coaches, One a Garage.

London.—The special train of Leon Trotzky, the chief of the Russian revolution, is a most elaborate affair, consisting of fourteen cars and two powerful engines. It is supplied with a wireless installation capable of receiving communications from Nauen Lyons and London. One of its most interesting fittings is a printing office which prints Trotzky's paper, On the War. The greatest curiosity of the train is the "garage" which contains six cars, one a powerful French automobile which belonged to the late Emperor Nicholas.

The escort on the train consists of 250 infantrymen, a whole company of machine gunners, as Trotzky, with his train has often been near the front and has several times been in danger of his life. The train also contains a library and a dining car.

Stops Hair Coming Out; Doubles Its Beauty.

A few cents buys "Danderine." After an application of "Danderine" you can not find a fallen hair or any other hair besides every hair showing more brightness, more color and thickness.

Chicago Grain Review.
Chicago, April 1.—Corn took a decided upward swing in price today, mainly as a result of the bullish estimates regarding winter wheat. Opening corn prices, which ranged from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 higher with May 51.58 1/2 to 51.59 1/2 and July 51.57 1/2 to 51.58 1/2, were followed by a slight reaction and then by material fresh upturns.
Oats sympathized with corn. After opening 1/2 cents off and 1/4 cents advance, including July at 79 1/2 to 79 3/4, the market scored moderate gains all around.
Continuance of the strike of Chicago stock yard employees tended to lift the provision market. Business, however, lacked volume.

Wall Street.
New York, April 1.—The impending holidays and uncertainty regarding money conditions over that period accounted in large measure for the dullness and unimportant price changes at the opening of today's stock market. Gains outnumbered recessions, but in no noteworthy instance did the change exceed a fraction of a point. There were indications that the operations of pools and other professional interests in various specialties might be affected for a time at least, as a result of the action taken by officials of the exchange yesterday in connection with Stutz Motor.

Trading continued in light volume during the morning and the market became more irregular. Crucible Steel led the reaction of the first feed declining nine points to 25 1/2 and other steels, equipments, motors and oils fell one to three points. On Crucible's lead, the market for a time gave way to general Motors the market improving. Shiping, sugar shares and express companies issues were inclined to strengthen, but steels and oils led another general decline. Call money moved at 8 per cent that rate also applying to renewals into the coming week.

VIENNESE BLED BY SMUGGLERS

Traffic in Food Becomes Daily Increasing Scandal in the City.

PRICES CONTINUE TO CLIMB

White Flour 100 Crowns a Kilo and Beef 80 Crowns a Pound—Custom-Made Clothes and Shoes Quoted in Foreign Money.

Vienna.—Smuggling of food and other necessities or luxuries becomes a daily increasing scandal in this hungry city.

As the crown approaches the disappearing point in value, the operations of these illicit "left-hand" traders become bolder and more extensive. It is an old story now that anything can be bought for a price in Vienna. The only new phase is that the price goes up daily.

While the city finds it difficult to supply the bread ration of a loaf of coarse black stuff, the components of which it would take a chemical analysis to determine, at nearly double the price of early autumn, white flour can be bought "by the left hand" at about 100 crowns the kilo (2.20 pounds).

Sugar Almost Prohibitive.

American and Argentine tinned corned beef can be had, but delivered to one's room it costs about 80 or 90 crowns the pound. White loaf sugar from Czechoslovakia is available at a price that means about one week's wage of the average office man or woman for a kilo.

Veal, mutton chops, goose, duck and other meats are here, but they represent three figures of crowns for one portion in restaurants. Seventy thousand persons fought for 50,000 pounds of salt meat in a market sale the other day.

For such things as shoes to order, tailored clothing and similar things the price is no longer quoted in crowns. The dealers charge in dollars, pounds sterling or francs, although this is illegal. They say they must pay in foreign money for materials and cannot sell in crowns. The correspondent bought a suit in October for 2,200 crowns. This week the same tailor asked the equivalent of 9,000 crowns in pounds sterling.

Remove Price Marks.

In the shops price marks have been removed from articles. The whole retail trade is trying to adjust prices to foreign exchange, and that fluctuates so rapidly that each sale is calculated on the day's quotation from Zurich (the Swiss franc rate governs local quotations).

When the passenger train service throughout the country was suspended for ten days the bills of fare in the restaurants and hotels furnished evidence of the extent of the smuggling business. Not only did most meats disappear, as well as green salads, but the prices went up correspondingly. Motor cars are scarce and gasoline is government controlled, so even the accomplished and resourceful smuggler finds himself at a loss.

In the queues that formed in front of ticket offices when train service resumed it is said that by far the largest proportion of applicants were smugglers anxious to reach the provinces and obtain the top prices for fresh food supplies. How they evade the food control permits at provincial borders is not explained. Only there remains the evident fact that they do.

D'ANNUNZIO ICE CREAM "HOG"

Eats as Much as Ten Persons; Poet is Also Very Fond of Crabfish.

Fiume.—Innumerable peculiarities constitute the temperament of Gabriele d'Annunzio. He is superstitious to the core, and will never sit down to an ordinary meal unless there are 11 at table. He is fastidious in his choice of foods and will drink only a special kind of Rhine wine.

His favorite dish is scampi, a small crabfish, found only in the Quarnero. The fish resembles in color the American shrimp, but is much larger, and has a taste milder than lobster, approximating the crab, but considerably more toothsome.

Besides his partiality for scampi, Lieut. Col. d'Annunzio is a lover of ice cream. He sometimes divides a large cake of it intended for the whole table into halves. He takes one entire half himself, then gives the other half to the remaining 10 at the table.

Steam Shovel Used to Scoop Drowning Man From River

David Elkins of Columbus, O., a watchman employed to patrol the river bank, was saved from drowning when another watchman lowered a steam shovel into the river and scooped Elkins from 12 feet of water.

Elkins had slipped on the bank and fallen 60 feet into the river, fracturing a leg. Elkins' companion lowered the shovel into the river where he saw bubbles rising and saved the drowning man.

STILL USE LASH FOR OFFENDERS

Delaware Only State in Union Where Whipping Is Permitted.

CLAIM IT GETS RESULTS

Law Designates the Number of Strokes for the Various Felonies—No Distinction Made Between Petty and Grand Larceny.

Wilmington, Del.—The whipping post has been abolished in Delaware, but whipping still remains.

Instead of strapping offenders to a post, they are forced to stand against a wall, with their hands outstretched on either side.

Delaware is the only state in which this form of punishment still is permitted. In other states it was abolished long ago.

In Delaware even the pillory was abandoned only recently.

What Law Provides.

Here are the various felonies punishable by whipping, and the number of strokes that the law provides for each:

Horse-stealing—Twenty lashes.

Larceny—not more than twenty lashes.

Arson in Second Degree—Not more than twenty lashes.

Burning a Court-house Where Official Records Are Kept—Sixty lashes.

House-breaking—Twenty lashes.

Highway Robbery—Twenty lashes.

Wife-beating—Not more than thirty lashes.

Attempt to Ravish—Thirty lashes.

In addition to the whipping, the offenses are also punishable by imprisonment.

The most of the statutes merely provide penalties for the various offenses with no provision that they shall not be inflicted upon women, public opinion in Delaware will no longer permit the lashing of women.

A majority of the offenders to be punished in that manner are negroes, but white men suffer it as well. The whippings usually take place at the end of each court term or, if the terms last more than one week, the whippings occur at the end of each week. They are administered by the warden of the jail.

A curious feature of the law of Delaware is that it makes no distinction between grand and petty larceny; the theft of a loaf of bread by a hungry man is technically as serious a crime as the stealing of $5,000 by a hardened criminal.

There is nothing in the law to prevent a judge from sentencing the former to be lashed on the bare back with a cat-o-nine-tails, made of leather thongs.

See Nothing Brutal.

"I do not see anything brutal about our form of punishment," former Judge J. Frank Ball, counsel for and a member of the County Workhouse commission, said to me. "The men are not beaten severely, for the strokes do not draw blood. No man who came to see one of the whippings, and who was unprejudiced could find anything to object to in them."

"I do not know of any movement to abolish whipping, and I do not know any citizens who would favor such a thing. We feel that we know what we are doing, and we don't want outsiders to dictate to us."

Aviator Shaves and Lathers an Onlooker

San Francisco.—Carrying out a bet with a fellow aviator, Ivan Gates, San Francisco premier "police traffic officer of the air," shaved himself 3,000 feet up in the air recently.

But for the fact that when he landed again on the Marina, his razor slipped and cut him on the ear, that his shaving water upset and splashed over the bystanders, and that his brush, all covered with lather, fell on the upturned face of one of the onlookers, the shave was a big success.

Gates had made his bet with Pilot L. de Arce. On landing, De Arce personally inspected Gates' chin to see whether he had made a good job of it. He declared himself quite satisfied, saying that no expert barber could have done better.

250,000 PENSIONED BY ITALY

Number Eligible to Receive Government Aid Is Expected to Reach 1,000,000.

Rome.—Two hundred and fifty thousand pensioners already have been approved by the ministry of pensions for men injured in the war.

It is estimated that 1,000,000 persons, including 400,000 affected by tuberculosis and malaria, are eligible for pensions. It is difficult as yet to obtain a definite idea as to the total burden these pensions will place upon the country, as the cost of this service will be included in appropriations made for the upkeep of the normal military and civil service.

Practice makes perfect. Some people quarrel over trifles instead of waiting for something worthy of their talents.

LAMENTS PASSING OF RUSSET

New England Journal Voices Regret That Famous Apple Is Becoming Increasingly Scarce.

The russet apple seems to be in a fair way to extinction. It used to be the commonest of our New England apples, but it is seldom seen nowadays.

In Rhode Island the principal varieties are the Baldwin and greenings—both fine apples, easy to sell and easy to "keep," fine of color and flavor. But there is room for the russet, too, and it would be a great pity if it should continue to be neglected by so many growers.

There is no other apple that has just the russet tang. It somehow embodies the pungent quality of New England life—its spice, its juice and its humor. It is not so showy an apple as some of its crimson, green and yellow competitors, and yet there is nothing handsomer in the apple kingdom after all than a ripe russet, brown and yellow commingling on its smooth surface, together with a faint blush of red.

Perhaps there are localities where the russet flourishes as of old, but it is out of fashion in this neighborhood. Let its friends arise in its behalf, and see that it does not wholly disappear. Why not a Russet society, systematically bent on its preservation? There have been organized movements for less worthy causes.

Apple lovers with only small tracts of ground might at least pledge themselves to set out one russet tree. A bearing apple tree is as good as money in the bank.—Providence Journal.

SAVAGE TRIBE ON TIBURON

"White Cannibals" Said to Inhabit Pacific Island Believed to Be Rich in Pitchblende.

Tiburon Island, in the Pacific, four miles off the Mexican coast, is inhabited by a tribe of "white cannibals" who are said to be descendants of the Dutch, Swedish and German prisoners who escaped from Mexican prisons several centuries ago. Yaqui Indians, who live on the mainland, call Tiburon the "Island of Death," for the reason that any person who lands on it is shot by poisoned darts and then eaten by natives, says an exchange.

In addition to poisoned arrows used by the natives the cannibals also use an ancient blunderbuss in attacking their victims. They are supposed to number from 500 to 2,000 persons. Of 16 persons known to have visited the island in the last few years, in parties of two and three, only nine are said to have returned alive, the others falling victims of the flaxen-haired blue-eyed "white Indians," as the Mexican people call them.

Tiburon is said to have rich deposits of pitchblende, from which radium is extracted.

Catfish Made to Change Names.

Some catfish have been nosing around in the mud of the rivers to the north of Rio Janeiro for 31 years without knowing their right name. They supposed their name was "Steindachneria," under which they had been baptized by Carl H. Eigenmann and Rosa Smith Eigenmann in 1888. But G. Brown Goode has given this name to some other fish belonging to the aristocratic gadoid family of Macrurids. Confusion and correspondence ensued until Prof. David Starr Jordan insisted that the catfish change their names. Therefore their sponsors have rebaptized them "Steindachneridion," and the catfish can now nose around in the mud of the Rio Jequitinhonha, the Rio Doce and the Rio Parahyba without fearing that the piscatorial mail intended for them may get carried out to sea and delivered to the Macrurids.

Not Allowed to Abdicate.

A Russian refugee, widow of a no-meman who was also an engineer, living in California and translating into English some of her contributions to Russian magazines, tells this story as illustrating the unpreparedness of Russian peasants for self-government: A soviet representative was addressing a large gathering of peasants in a certain district. After a long speech in which he told them the government was overthrown, the czar was dead and they were free, he sat down. Then the leader of the peasants arose and solemnly announced they would sing "God Save the Czar!"

Paris May Tax Visitors.

The Paris municipal council, at its closing meeting of the old year, voted a resolution in favor of the capital being officially "classified" as a watering place. The object of the motion is to enable the city to collect a small poll tax on visitors in order to swell the municipal revenues, as is already done in other watering places. While agreeing that such a tax probably would bring in a good round sum, the Figaro criticizes the proposal as hardly in keeping with the city's traditions.

Fly That Is Farmer's Friend.

There is a general prevailing opinion among farmers that cut worms make horse flies. This is erroneous. Cut worms and army worms are sometimes parasitized by large Tachinid flies which, to the casual observer, somewhat resemble the horse fly. The Tachinid fly is a beneficial insect and is one of nature's means of controlling the army and cut worms.

Autos for Cuba.

The United States has shipped to Cuba in the past few years 13,001 passenger automobiles and 1,438 commercial vehicles, or one for every 180 persons.

The world may make mistakes, but it never takes a man at his own valuation.

Fighting Hunger

Hunger is never more than a few days away from the American people.

The coal strike shows us what a narrow margin the country goes on, even in a non-perishable necessity which can be stored.

Swift & Company is engaged in the business of fighting hunger.

From coast to coast, from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, the lines of defense are drawn—packing plants at strategic points; branch houses in four hundred towns and cities; hundreds of car routes; thousands of refrigerator cars; tens of thousands of loyal men and women expert in their work.

Day by day, hour by hour ceaselessly, this fight, your fight, goes on. Yet so smoothly, surely and victoriously that you, unaware how close hunger always is, are as certain each night of tomorrow's meat as you are of tomorrow's sun.

And so economically is this done that the cost to you for this service is less than three cents a pound of meat sold. The profits shared in by more than 30,000 shareholders whose money makes the victory possible is only a fraction of a cent a pound on all products.

If hunger did not make it necessary for us to fight this fight in the best possible way for all concerned, the competition of hundreds of other packers, large and small, would compel us.

HIGHLY RECOMMENDS REDEX FOR STOMACH AND KIDNEY TROUBLE

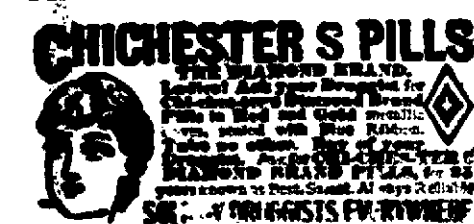

Marion Man Highly Elated Over the Wonderful Improvement in His Condition.

Statements are continually coming in, praising Redex, the new remedy now being introduced in Newark at Korman's Arcade Drug Store. Among a number recently received is one from Mr. N. R. Scott, living at 153 Patten street, Marion, who says: "I was in last shape from kidneys and stomach trouble had severe pains in my back, could not eat without suffering from indigestion and my general condition was very poor. I seldom enjoyed a good night's sleep and felt more tired when I got up than before I went to bed. I have only taken one bottle of Redex and it has helped me a great deal. My kidneys do not give me the trouble they formerly did, my appetite is good and I am no longer bothered with indigestion. In fact almost anything agrees with me now. I sleep well at night and get up rested. I will gladly continue taking Redex because it has been of great benefit in my case, and am glad to recommend it to any one suffering as I did."

Redex gives quick and lasting results in most cases of liver, kidney and stomach trouble. Those who suffer from sour stomach, gas, or flatulence after eating, a feeling of weight on the stomach, no appetite, constipation, biliousness, nervousness, insomnia, poor circulation, pains in the back or joints, or are in a run down condition should get a bottle of Redex without delay.

Redex, the new tonic and invigorant, is being specially introduced at Korman's Arcade Drug Store, Newark, and can be had at Evans' Drug Store, Mykronts and all leading druggists here.

It can also be obtained in Granville at Ullman's Drug Store; Alexandria, C. M. Gilmore; Helton, Helton Drug Store; Richardson's Drug Store, Uica, Ohio.—Adv.

WAR SURGERY PASSES

Medical Science Makes Fine Record in War Period.

New Epoch to Medicine and Knife Brought by Great Conflict.

Washington.—What may be termed in medical science the "war surgery period" in America is about to pass.

This means that for the wounded in the war about all that human skill can do for them has been performed.

The number of wounded Americans in hospitals in Europe and America was 277,000 at the time of the armistice. The present number is 12,000, all in the fourteen military hospitals in the United States.

Surgeon General Ireland was told that it had been reported that in the last few months high-class specialists, surgeons and doctors had left the service to resume private practice and that many wounded were left in the hands of men of little experience.

"Nothing to it," said General Ireland. "By just saying the word every big specialist in the country would come a-running to help us."

General Ireland pointed out that surgeons had been reduced from 31,000 to 2,225, or 93 per cent, and Col. William H. Moncrief, who had charge of all the war surgery, pointed out that 95 per cent of the major operations from overseas injuries have been performed.

"They all worked faithfully till the armistice was signed," said Colonel Moncrief. "From then on we had a hard time. But we discharged no men that we couldn't get along without."

TRADED HIS GUN FOR GAS

Lieutenant Gave Up His Automatic So He Could Help Smash Germans.

Washington.—If the ordnance department accounts show (among other things) a deficit of one army automatic pistol (which they do), it is because Lieutenant Hillesley was badly in need of gas to drive the American "Heavy" tank into the already dented Hindenburg line in the summer of 1918.

Lieutenant Hillesley begged the chauffeur of an Australian commanding general's beautifully upholstered limousine for the loan of his car for 30 minutes—the general being temporarily absent. The chauffeur consented, after pocketing the American's big "45" automatic, and Hillesley returned with the car full of brimming gasoline and oil cans.

The general was mad, but Hillesley made his nick in the Hindenburg line, and no court-martial followed.

English Church Refuses to Let Women Preach

London.—"In view of the statements of St. Paul on the subject of the uniform practice of the church in the past, it is not desirable to grant permission to women to speak and pray in consecrated buildings." This is the reply of the lower house of canon to a suggestion from Convention that women might be allowed to enter the ministry under regulations and conditions laid down by the bishop.

Pupils Underweight

Columbus, Ind.—Declaration on the part of parents of boys and girls attending the public schools of Columbus that their children were undernourished because of the high cost of living has resulted in an investigation of conditions. The investigation, as far as it has proceeded, shows that 46 per cent of the children are more than four pounds underweight. Only 12 per cent of the thousands that attend school here have been found to be normal in poundage.

Of the 1921 members of the A. E. F. who married abroad 1060 were officers and 2771 enlisted men.

HIS VAST WEALTH A CURSE

Sudden Possession of Immense Riches Too Much for Mental Stability of Mexican Indian.

Confined in an asylum for the insane to Mexico is a millionaire who never enjoyed a cent of his fortune, though for a time he had it in his possession in cash. The amazing story of this man to whom wealth proved a curse, is told by G. F. Weeks in the Wide World Magazine.

Juvenilo Robles, a full-blooded Mexican Indian, was born in a palm leaf hut in the little town of Tampico, inland from Tampico. From earliest childhood he was forced to work, his wages amounting to less than 50 cents a week. When arrived at manhood he married and from then on turned his earnings over to his wife as bankers. For several years he led a colorless existence, scrimping along day by day and saving little. Then one day some friends inveigled him into a card game. Fortune was with him and he won what was a great sum to them, $18. This he invested in a small butcher shop. The market thrived and a few years later he was able to buy some land on which to fatten cattle. When oil was discovered at Tampico his ranch was in the heart of the field. He was offered 1,000,000 pesos and yearly royalties for the oil rights on his land. This he accepted, but demanded payment in gold.

The money was delivered to him as he requested, and from then on his sole interest in life consisted in guarding his treasure. He slept on a box filled with coins and refused to eat for fear his family would poison him. At last his mania reached such a stage that it was necessary to have him confined.

RAIL LINE CROSSES OCEAN

Remarkable Trip That Is Taken by Travelers on Their Way to Key West, Florida.

Thousands of Americans at the vacation time of the year take the only ocean trip which can be made on a railroad train, writes "Nilsah" in the Chicago News. They go to Key West by way of the line which runs through the Atlantic ocean on an embankment built from one to another of those tiny islands known as the Florida keys.

As you ride along this remarkable railroad, you look out the window and down into the clear shallow water and see great schools of fish playing near the surface, and deeper down you can glimpse now and then the shadowy form of a small shark. On either side of you reaches away to the horizon a vast expanse of brilliant blue water, dotted with islands, which vary in size from a fraction of an acre, to perhaps a quarter of a square mile. They are low and flat and covered with low-growing mangroves, and other swamp plants. Here and there a group of coconuts or royal palms lifts a feathery silhouette. Occasionally a little shack is glimpsed, and a few sails are seen in the distance, but for the most part the region is a wilderness of blue water, white sand and low-growing jungle—a wilderness that you would love to explore in a small boat.

Of life you see little. Now and then white flocks of ibises rise from the islands; a tree duck splatters clumsily away from the train, or a great blue heron trails his legs in lonely dignity across the sky. For the most part silence and sunlight own the place.

Chinese Mail Up to Date

The Chinese mail bag is now a popular institution throughout the whole of the ancient empire. Established 23 years ago, active development of the department only began after the Boxer revolution. In 1918 6,000 miles of overland routes were added to the service. And now a new continuous overland courier route of roughly 3,375 miles, the longest in the world, connects Kalgan by way of Mongolia with Tihwafu, capital of the Sinkiang (Chinese Turkestan) following in part the old trade routes from China to Persia. The townspeople of a flourishing manufacturing district were so enraged recently by the delay of mail that they appealed to the court, and the party responsible was ordered to be decapitated if he offended again. Probably they had missed their copies of the Family Herald!

With the Children

Gene Stratton Porter, age two and one-half, daughter of Dr. E. A. Porter, Harrisville, Ind., has difficulty finding proper words to express herself, as most children at that age do. Personal pronouns are particularly difficult.

One of her friends asked Gene to go home with her recently. "I want to go home with Hazel, mother, can me? I want to go down there with she."

One morning she came downstairs with her shoes on the wrong foot and looking at them with a puzzled expression said: "Mother, me got my shoes on wrong side out."—Indianapolis News.

Vessel Too Big for Docks

America, it seems, with all her progress in shipbuilding, has no dock on the Atlantic coast suitable for repairing a vessel like the Leviathan or the Imperator, says Shipping. When the Leviathan needed overhauling, she had to be sent to Liverpool to the big Gladstone dock. Even there it was necessary to wait for the new and the full moon to dock and undock her, as the highest tide was required to "hoist her over the sill." The dock at Norfolk, Va., it seems, is big enough to float the Leviathan, but the channel leading to it will not permit her passage.

Remember This.

One advertisement will not do the work, neither will two advertisements. It takes continuous advertising to bring home the bacon. That is the reason our large institutions are larger. They were small businesses a few years ago, but through continuous advertising they have grown to large institutions. Think this over.

HOUSE FILLED WITH SPOOKS

Offer of Free Rent Fails to Attract Tenants and Owner
Sells It.

Pineville, W. Va.—The famous haunted house at "Barden," on the Norfolk and Western railroad, is being demolished by the new owner, C. W. Brown who purchased it in an administrator's sale, because the spooks behaved so badly during the last twenty-five years that no one would live in it.

The house is a big two-story frame structure and is one of the landmarks of the village. According to those who have occupied it, spooks, spooks and spirits abound in it. It was built more than half a century ago, and the alleged walking of chairs and tables and door raps, rattling of dishes and pans and removal of covers from persons occupying beds have driven those who have occupied the place to give it up.

The ghosts have been reported for a quarter of a century, and during that time a score of different families have occupied the house, but only for short periods. For years no one would occupy it, although it was offered real free.

HELD BACK TIME'S PROGRESS

Announcing Hour of Noon Secondary in Importance to Mexican Servant's Other Duties.

A certain village in northern Mexico did not boast of a town clock. When twelve o'clock arrived the parish priest used to tell his servant to mount the belfry and strike the church bell twelve times, so that the villagers would know that it was high noon.

One of the neighbors, who had a watch, noticed that for some days twelve o'clock had struck a few minutes late. Thinking that perhaps the priest's watch was slow, he asked the mozo (servant) why it was that he had delayed in striking the hour.
The mozo answered:

"It is this way: The padrecte tells me it is time to strike twelve;
but just as I am to start up the ladder
the cook tells me to get the tortillas.
So I have to go after tortillas, and when I get back and climb the ladder again it makes the noon late."

Even After All

A suspicious-looking customer was boasting to a grocer of the cheapness of a trial shop.

"Let me weigh the package," said the grocer.

The other assented, and it was found two pounds short.

The man looked perplexed for a moment and then said "I don't think he cheated me much, for while he was getting the sugar I pocketed two tins of condensed milk."—Edinburgh Scotsman

Explained.

"Water why do you bring me this same potato day after day?"
"Well sir, you never eat it."—World

AIR PILOT COMING IN LIVERY PLANE

Joseph B. Kuhn, Brother of Newark Woman, Will Fly From Dayton Friday,
Weather Permitting.

the army air service at Memphis training field, will arrive in Newark Friday
if weather permits, with a new plane recently purchased at Dayton. He will make the trip from that city to Newark in the plane and will remain here over Sunday, perhaps longer, and will carry passengers in flights over the city.

The plane is a new Curtiss which has just been completed and tested at the Dayton plant.

Kuhn is a brother of Mrs. Fred Foster, of Elmwood avenue, and while in New ark he will stay at the Foster home.

D'ANNUNZIO TOLD ITALY MUST ACCEPT

Trieste, April 1.—The Italian government has notified Gabriele D'Annunzio that it will have to accept President Fiume as an independent state. An envoy from the Adriatic question. An envoy from Premier Nitti has been to Fiume where he made this decision known to D'An-nuzio, the insurgent Italian commander there.

A meeting was held in Fiume at which all of D'Annunzio's followers were present. At this meeting Alcide de Ambris, chief of the D'Annunzio cabinet, declared the proclamation of Fiume as an independent state would be made only in case such action was necessary to protect the Italian character of the city to guarantee the principles for which D'Annunzio went to Fiume and to insure that city a possession of the port and railways.

MILITARY INTERVENTION IN RUHR VALLEY UNWISE

Paris, April 1.—Premier Millerand today received Dr. Von Mayer, the German charge d'affaires, and went over the situation in the Ruhr district with him. The premier improved the occasion to reiterate the terms of his letter of yesterday dealing with the question of permission for German troops to enter the Ruhr region in which he expressed the view that military intervention in that region at present would be useless as well as dangerous. He added that the French government was taking steps to confirm the information upon which its decision was based.

ACCIDENT VICTIM DEVELOPS MENINGITIS

Zanesville, April 1.—Fears are being entertained that the runaway Greenwood car accident at Ninth and Adams streets last Friday morning when the front of the Pioneer apartment was wrecked after the car jumped the tracks, may yet result seriously to Edward Perry, aged 18 months, the son of Mrs. Riley Perry, who was suffocated in the car following the crash.

The child has developed symptoms of cerebro spinal meningitis in an aggravated form and the outcome is a matter of deep concern to the father and family physician.

700 JAPS KILLED IN A CLASH WITH RUSSIANS

Honolulu, April 1.—Seven hundred Japanese troops and civilians were killed in a two-day battle with Russian soldiers at Nikolaevo, Siberia, according to a To-jo cable dispatch received by the Japanese newspaper Nippu Jiji here.

The Japanese residents organized a volunteer force to aid the Japanese soldiers fight a heavy force of Bolsheviks.
The Japanese consulate was burned and the consul, M. Ichi, is still missing, according to the cable.

The two days' battle began on March 15. Nikolaevo is at the mouth of the Amur river.

THE LICKING CREAMERY CO.'S LIBERAL OFFER TO USERS OF MILK AND CREAM

The Licking Creamery Company is making a monthly award of two 2) sheets of milk tickets, (each sheet containing eight quart or sixteen pint tickets) on each of its retail wagon routes to private consumers of milk and cream throughout the city.

These awards are made on the 15th of each month, a duplicate receipt stub from every sheet of tickets sold during the preceding month is placed in a box from which the stubs to receive reward are drawn by a disinterested person.
Each route handled separately.

There is But One Condition Qualifying

These Awards

All customers must have their accounts with the Licking Creamery Company paid in full for the month preceding the one in which any given drawing occurs.

In other words, should a duplicate of one of your ticket receipt stubs be drawn on the 15th of one month it would not receive an award unless your account was paid in full for the month preceding.

This is absolutely the only requirement made, thereby characterizing this proposition as being extremely clean and liberal.

OPTOMETRY—

ITS VALUE TO THE PUBLIC.

By O. P. COOK.

TALK FOURTEEN

When you decide to visit an Optometrist do not consider him a merchant who is in the business of selling lenses and mounting.

Rather regard him as a man whose skill and advice are what you principally desire, and attach the proper importance to the strictly professional aspect of his duties.

This thought touches the important consideration of the VALUE of an Opto-metrist's service.

Obviously he is of more benefit to some patients than to others.

And the value of the Optometrist's service to the patient should in some measure govern the charge which the Optometrist makes.

This idea is precisely in harmony with the attitude of all professional and business men. The greater the service the greater the cost.

WHO INVENTED OUIJA

Brothers Ask Baltimore Court to Settle Dispute.

Brothers, Apparently Lacking Faith in Talking Board, Ask Judge to Decide.

Baltimore.—At the moment that the ouija board, which some years ago excited the country and then virtually disappeared, has again come into the limelight throughout the world, two brothers are engaged in litigation here over the ownership of the patent.

The trial is now in progress of the suit of Isaac Fuld, trading as the Southern Toy company, who is asking for an injunction to restrain his brother, William Fuld, from deriving pecuniary profits through the sale of the ouija board.

The plaintiff asserts that in 1904 he originated, manufactured and placed upon the market the board under the copyright name of the oracle and that later William Fuld started the manufacture of the ouija board.

William Fuld asserts that he and Isaac Fuld were in business together years ago, and that the ouija board is the original talking board, and claims that the oracle talking board manufactured by Isaac Fuld is a copy of the one placed on the market by him.

The Fuld about 28 years ago were in charge of a wooden toy factory known as the Kennard Manufacturing company and the ouija board was one of the devices they made to entertain the young. It quickly won tremendous popularity and so overshadowed the business of the concern that the plant was largely devoted to the making of the ouija board.

WIRELESS TO GUIDE FLYERS

Patrol Planes on the Mexican Border Are Equipped With Radio Sets.

Washington.—In order to reduce the danger of American air service pilots accidentally flying over Mexican territory or becoming lost while on border patrol duty, the commander of the Ninety-first Aero squadron, stationed temporarily at Ream field, Imperial Beach, Cal., has had every plane of the squadron equipped with a radio set with a wave length of 377 meters, which is the best wave length to dodge interference. All pilots are required to check their position every five minutes.

As a further precaution the radio officer of the Ninety-first squadron has erected at Ream field a radio compass station by which readings are taken while planes are sending in their position reports. As the course is almost straight east from Ream field the radio officer can tell almost instantly whether a given plane is holding to its proper air line.

Should a pilot become confused, lose or mistake his position and turn south, the radio compass would immediately show that the plane was over Mexican territory.

ODD INVENTIONS PATENTED

Tornado-Proof House, "Pedal Calorificators" and Other Queer Contrivances Listed.

Washington.—In enumerating some of the strange patents sanctioned by the patent office an attorney mentions a tornado-proof house, the invention of a New England man. It is built on a pivot, so that every breeze turns it with its head to the wind.

Among other inventions is a "pedal calorificator," with which one can blow upon one's toes to warm them. It is a tube, worn under the clothing, with a branch leading to each foot and a mouthpiece at the top. Then there are a polisher for false teeth—merely the end of a cornucop stuck on a stick; a sanitary pocket for carrying chewing gum, a wooden bit for preventing snoring, a noiseless alarm clock that yanks the sleeper's arm instead of ringing, another that starts a mechanism that throws him out of bed, and a machine for counting eggs as they are laid.

BANDITS IN ATTACK ON SHIP

Albanian Outlaws Fire on Vessel Carrying United States Red Cross Supplies.

Scutari, Albania.—The steamer Skodra, flying the French flag and carrying American Red Cross supplies for Montenegro, was held up by bandits while en route up the Bojana river, and one of the sailors was wounded.

The ship had just reached a bend in the river when the bandits appeared with machine guns and began to embark a boarding party in small boats. The captain turned the vessel and ordered all steam ahead down the river. The bandits immediately opened fire and riddled the sides and upper deck of the ship with machine gun bullets.

About 12,000 United States troops are still on duty at the American bridgehead on the Rhine (Coblenz) Germany.

AUDITORIUM

"The River's End"

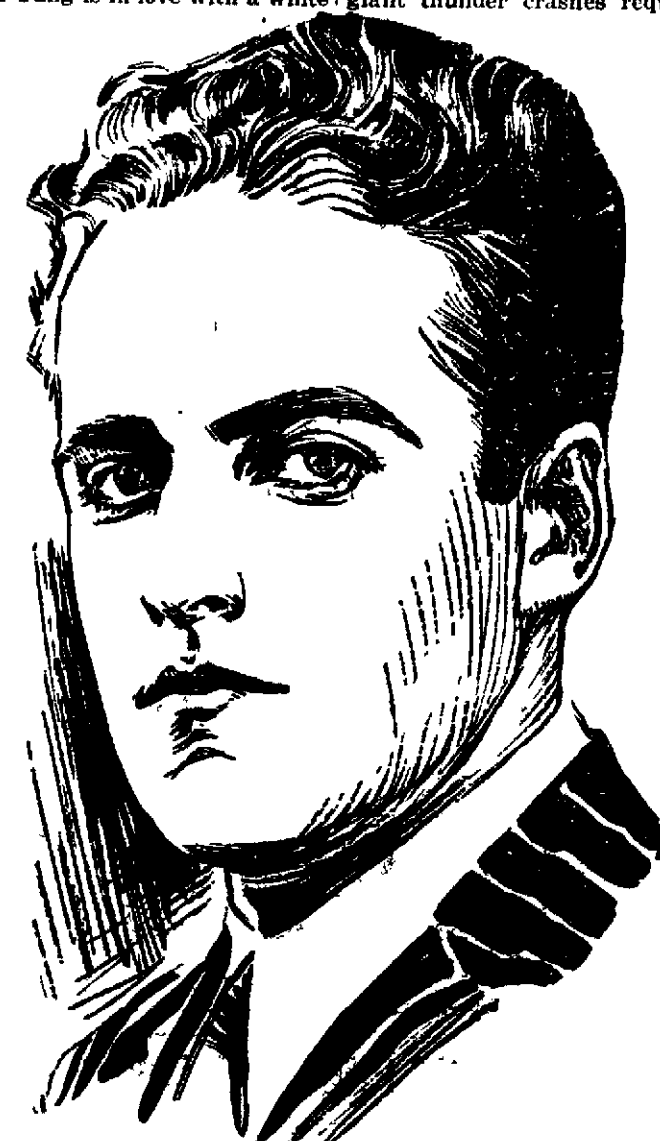

Large crowds for the past three days have visited the Auditorium theater where Marshall Neilan's first own studio production, "The River's End," is being screened. The picture is somewhat different than the usual run of photoplay drama and if you haven't seen it, we would say, go today, for it's your last chance. A short synopsis is given below:

John Keith, wanted for murder, is captured after a two year chase by Constable of the Royal Mounted Police. While bringing his prisoner back, Constable dies. Constable and Keith bear a striking resemblance so Keith impersonates Constable and returns to the post and reports the death of the outlaw. Shan Tung, a Chinaman, recognizes Keith, but keeps his identity secret. Shan Tung is in love with a white torium to be flooded as there is a continuous downpour of rain for 20 minutes, during the action of the second act of "Tiger Rose."

Just over the doorway leading outside of the Factor's house, a water pipe is suspended, and when the rainstorm begins the water falls from this pipe much the same as in an ordinary shower bath. On the stage back of the scene is built a trough, about 10 by 25 feet wide, and about four inches in depth. The water from the rainstorm falls into this trough, and is drained away underneath the stage. The trough is covered with canvas, which gives the effect of the sound of rain fall upon the soil in the woods.

But there is not only rain in this storm, for throughout the scene huge crashes and peals of thunder are heard and flashes of lightning seen. Two giant thunder crashes require the use girl and holds a strange influence over her. Constable's sister arrives on the scene after a seven years' search for her brother. She believes Keith to be the object of her search. He falls in love with her. After a battle in the opium den in which Keith kills the Chinaman and frees the white girl from his spell he tells Constable's sister all. Then he flees back to the snow wastes. But she learns of the whole past mystery, and what she does is something you will wish to learn.

"The Tiger Rose"

One of the most realistic scenic effects that the theater has had in many seasons, is the rainstorm in David Belasco's personally owned, sensational, melodramatic success, "Tiger Rose," which plays here Friday night. So realistic is this stage rainstorm that persons in the theater are surprised, as they leave after the performance, that it is not raining outside. A feeling of positive dampness spreads over the auditorium when Mr. Belasco turns loose his forces of nature, back stage.

With the amount of rain that falls during this scene in "Tiger Rose," one would expect both the stage and audiof four tons of cannon balls, which are hurled down a wooden incline back stage, stretching from high up in the wings to the stage floor. The flooring of this incline is covered with corrugated iron, and at the bottom there is stretched stout sheet iron.

Seats are now selling.

"The Road to Divorce."
Mary Mac Laren, popular Universal star, comes to the Auditorium Sunday in a Universal special attraction, "The Road to Divorce." This is a story of New England life and it is one that will interest all who see it. The cast besides the star includes Wm. Ellingford, Albert Lee, Edward Peil, Eugene Forde, Gloria Holt, Arthur Redden, Bonnie Hill, Ray Stecker, Helen Davidge and others. A new comedy, Pathe News and an augmented orchestra will be heard.

"Jubilo."
The Auditorium on Saturday will screen "Jubilo," the Goldwyn picture in which Will Rogers, late star of the Folies, is the bright particular star. This feature when shown here for one day attracted large crowds and is brought back by special request.

"Soldiers of Fortune."
Extensive traveling, wide newspaper experience, and the faculty of keenly observing life, made the late Richard Harding Davis one of the leading fig-diversion to the tired business man and woman.

Heading the lengthy cast, of course, are Fanchon and Marco themselves, the cleverest modern dancers and terpsichorean specialists in the country. Nelson and Chain are a pair of funny men with a reputation for creating chuckles that is hard to duplicate. They will introduce novel specialties throughout the performance. Ethel West is a comedienne with a manner all his own, who scored in vaudeville. His black-face antics in Let's Get It will prove a riot. "Bill" Dooley is an actor and vocalist whose work is equally familiar to musical comedy followers and patrons of vaudeville. Lucille Smith is quite the cutest little maid that ever tripped down a runway, followed by 30 alluring damsels. And then there will be Mildred and Mayo, Phil Harris, Muriel Stryker and a host of others, with the "thirty most beautiful girls in the world" as a most distinctive and fascinating feature. Seats ready Saturday.

ALHAMBRA Wallace Reid.

Wallace Reid is thoroughly at home in the rig of a westerner and in "The Man from Funeral Range," his newest Paramount offering, which was shown at the Alhambra theater yesterday, he appeared to distinct advantage as a prospector amid a decidedly effective setting and in a picture play that is remarkable because of its dramatic strength and in which the love element runs strongly. The story is from the play "Broken Threads" by Ernest Wilkes and has the advantage of excellent construction and the tenseness that only comes with experienced playwrighting.

The theme is rich in emotion and startling situations. It is well enacted by Mr. Reid as Webb, Ann Little as Janice and Lottie Pickford as Dixie. The villains, Brenton and Beekman, are played respectively by Geo. McDaniell and Tully Marshall. Good bits are done by others in the cast.

The production, directed by Walter Edwards, is a finished one and the general public will find it distinctly to their liking. The last screenings are given tonight.

Louise Glau.

Louise Glau, the famous emotional singer, J. Parker Reed, Jr.'s soul-stirring drama, "The Lone Wolf's Daughter," a W. W. Hodgkinson release from the powerful pen of Louis Joseph Vance, is the attraction at the Alhambra theater beginning Friday.

Louise Glau plays the role of Sonia, a beautiful young Londoner reared by a stranger in ignorance of the fact that she is the daughter of the Lone Wolf, and now the victim of the same. Prince Victor, leader of a band of desperate plunderers, because of an ancient feud between the prince and The Lone Wolf over her mother, one-time wife of the prince. At the prince's home and finds in Roger Karslake, posing as a secretary but in reality a Scotland Yard man seeking to trap the bandit chieftain and his followers. Karslake has brought Sonia to the home of the prince, who claims to be her father in an attempt to ensnare the Lone Wolf. Through the aid of Karslake, who has grown to love Sonia, the prince's crafty enemy is installed in Victor's home as the butler. That night is summoned to the Limehouse rendezvous of the band and Sonia disguised as a Chinese maid, accompanies him as messenger. There she learns of Victor's plot to ensnare Karslake to use him as a man for round-up. This is accomplished but not until after a series of thrilling gun fights in which Prince Victor is killed and a battle with flames in which Sonia trapped on the roof of the house, is rescued by Karslake with the aid of a derrick from a passing steamer.

"His Temporary Wife."

"His Temporary Wife," Joseph Levering's vivid picturization of Robert Ames Bennett's widely-read magazine story, boasts no less than five famous players in its personnel, the new W. W. Hodgkinson release, which comes to the Alhambra theater Sunday, exacting the best efforts of such notables as Ruby De Remer, Edmund Brees, Mary Boland, Eugene Strong and W. T. Carleton.

"His Temporary Wife," which is described as "a startling Leap Year romance," concerns the adventures of a beautiful girl, who as a nurse wins her way into the good graces of a wealthy patient, whose son and only heir has disappeared, because of the youth's infatuation for a woman of questionable character.

LYRIC.

Hestons Musical Comedy Company are drawing large crowds to their Lyric this week and are showing many features, there bills are new and up to date and the show is far above all others that have been here this season and the chorus sings some of the latest songs of the most composed of good looking girls whose singing is far above the average. There will be a change of program tomorrow and also 5 Big Amateur Acts as an extra feature tonight. A Five Dollar Gold Piece will be given to the person holding the lucky number.

GRAND.

"There would be no bachelors," says Low Cody, "if wives would only give their husbands all the little home comforts which they were able to obtain before they were married."

Mr. Cody speaks not only from personal experience, but also from a thorough study of the subject for his latest picture for Robertson-Cole, "The Beloved Cheater."

"Besides that, consider the responsibility. There is wife always waiting at home for you, and she expects you to tell her where you've been—what you've done—who you've been with—you've got to think all the time."

Now in "The Beloved Cheater" I'm actually envisaging the life I'm supposed to lead in that picture. If I could only have the girls flocking around me as they do this man, Bruce Sands—and the service he gets—there would be no Chinese valet—it's enough to make a man want to remain a bachelor."

"On the other hand there are the girls. It's fine to be appreciated and we all like to have the girls. But it's not to be embarrassing when half a dozen or so get the idea that each is the one and only and want to know when the engagement will be announced. But as I said before, it's mighty nice to remain a bachelor—if you can."

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Discoverer Tells Druggists Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Absolutely Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it with what might be called marvellous success. After years of waiting he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Evans' Cut Rate drug store has been appointed agent for Allenbath in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money to all who state they received no benefit.

Milady's Boudoir

Cucumbers for Beauty.
Cucumber lotion is one of the best agents for whitening and softening the skin that there is. Therefore the beauty seeker should be sure and plant cucumbers this spring, not only for eating, but enough of them to make up the beauty lotion, enough to last all next winter. Pare it, cut it into thick slices and rub them upon the face. The juice should be left on over night and washed off with warm, not hot, water in the morning.

The best way to prepare a cucumber beauty lotion is to mash a cucumber into a pulp. Place the pulp in half a pint of milk and set it upon the stove to come to a slow boil. When it has come to a three minute boil the lotion is removed from the fire and strained through a clean cheese cloth or a very fine strainer.

The result will be a cucumber cream which is delightful to use when perfumed with rose water, essence of violet or lavender. This, too, is applied before retiring and washed off in the morning. It is an excellent whitener and is recommended for removing the yellow lines around the neck which often appear when the warm weather comes.

For whitening the fingers, when they are stained from the paring and cooking of vegetables, a piece of tomato rubbed upon them will clear the skin. Tomato juice, allowed to stay on the hands for some time, and then washed off with soap and water, will help wonderfully to whiten the hands.

To whiten the chin use the common white potato. Pare the potato and rub it upon the chin, or bind slices of it about the chin for several hours daily. The potato is then removed and the skin washed with a mild soap and warm water, after which a good cream is rubbed in. There is really no excuse for a woman being unbecomingly, even if she cannot afford to buy expensive cosmetics, when nature in her common vegetables is ready to come to our aid.

Our Boys and Girls

Few mothers realize how much sleep a baby will take if given the opportunity and not only babies, but older children. A baby, until it is nine months old, should sleep from two to two and a half hours after its morning bath and for at least one hour in the afternoon. Then it should sleep from eleven to twelve hours at night.

A small baby should not be sung to or taken up for any reason except sickness. As the child grows older one nap is plenty and that is best taken after its noon day meal. Up until school age all children should be trained to take this nap. From four to nine years of age children should go to bed at seven in the winter and half past in the summer.

For the small child it is best to undress them when they take their nap and slip on their nightgown. In this way their little bodies get a rest from their clothes no matter if their clothes are not tight in the least. After they are five or more it is not as necessary but I would suggest that it be done just the same.

Everyday Etiquette

"Would you kindly tell me if it is proper to send a marriage announcement to a member of a family who is the particular friend of the party sending it, or should announcements be sent to the family in general?" asked Rose.

"Under such circumstances, I would send one announcement to the parents jointly and one to each of the adult sons and daughters. It is good form nowadays to address 'Mr. and Mrs. Blank and family,' when there are sons and daughters old enough to receive social considerations," suggested the aunt.

"A skin you love to touch"

You, too, can have this charm

No matter what other charms you have, they count for little unless you have the greatest of all charms—a clear, fresh skin.

An authority on the skin has said: "Whatever your difficulty is, you can remedy the trouble, if you will only give your skin intelligent care and attention."

The following treatment brings the blood to the surface and stimulates the small muscular fibres. Begin it tonight and see how it will improve your skin.

Just before retiring, wash your face and neck with plenty of Woodbury's Facial Soap and warm water. After rinsing your face with warm water, rub a fresh lather of Woodbury's into your skin, using an upward and outward motion. Do this until the skin feels just a little sensitive. Then rinse the skin well in warm water, then in cold, finishing by rubbing for thirty seconds with a piece of ice. Always be careful to dry the skin thoroughly.

Make this treatment a regular habit, and in a much shorter time than you would imagine, your skin will take on the greater loveliness that it can have.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

MURDER MADE EASY MATTER

With Formula Poisoned by English Chemist, Slayer Might Laugh at Human Law.

The lunch-time conversation of the scientists at the national physical laboratory, Teddington, shifts daily to all sorts of interesting subjects, and it was inevitable that the topic of murder should have been suggested by the "wave crime" in Great Britain (an epidemic that amounts to less than one homicide a week).

It was agreed that all the murders reported in the daily papers were commonplace, dull, sordid affairs, showing no ingenuity and deliberation. "If I had a murder to commit, how should I go about it?" became the theme.

The metallurgists, electricians, radiologists, physicists and other scientists had many astounding murder methods, but with a common weak point, writes an English correspondent. None of them disposed of the body so that detection would be not only improbable, but impossible.

It remained for a chemist to solve the problem. "I would not be so clever as you in the assassination itself," he said. "Any quick way of silent dispatch would do. But I could swiftly dissolve a body, bones and all, so that it could be poured as a liquid into a sewer and be thoroughly done away with. No I mustn't give the formula." He was the victor in the discussion.

MADE THEIR OWN OIL WELL

How Two Small Boys Reaped Rich Reward for the Exercise of a Little Ingenuity.

Two barefoot boys, respectively eleven and twelve years of age, earned forty-five hundred dollars in one week, according to the Oil Weekly of Dallas, Texas, by combining thrift and ingenuity in a telling manner. Much oil was going to waste in the Northwest Burkburnett oil field because the pipe lines were inadequate, when the boys, who are brothers, saw crude oil from a broken pipe running down a small ravine. Hitching a donkey to a rattle-trap spring wagon, they began to haul dirt to dam the ravine and succeeded after much hard work in collecting a great quantity of oil.

The owner appeared on the scene about that time, and he admired the pluck of the youngsters. He did not claim the oil outright, although it had been his, but offered the youngsters one dollar and a half a barrel salvage for it. The youngsters accepted his offer and, perching themselves on their new dam with stubs of pencils, checked out the oil as it was hauled away. It tallied exactly three thousand barrels, and the boys got their money.

Fewer Figs Reach Market

The fig yield of the vilayet of Aiden has arisen from approximately 9,000 tons raised on 10,000 acres of land about thirty years ago to about 23,000 tons raised on 25,000 acres. However, this advance in supply has not kept pace with the demand, and prices of figs have steadily risen. The big producing areas are, under normal conditions, exclusively tapped by the Ottoman (Aiden) Railway company's system. The orchards, located mainly in the Meander valley, are owned chiefly by Turks. The best figs are produced in the Inovassi and Ortak districts. The product is marketed in Smyrna, where the figs are packed in accordance with the demand of the region to which the figs are exported. Blight, neglected fertilization and lack of communication have cut down this season's export output to about 10,000 tons. Exports went to the United States (about 4,000 tons) the United Kingdom (5,500 tons), and European entente countries (about 1,000 tons).

Is It Still Coffee?

Two young men walking along Chestnut street the other evening met two girls, recent acquaintances, dressed in height of fashion—fur coats and hats, expensive looking shoes, and invited them to go to a high-class restaurant.

The girls agreed and after they had finished eating, they were asked if they would enjoy a demi-tasse.

They looked at each other. "Is it some sort of sundae?" inquired one as though there might be some hidden joke in the invitation.

"I don't think it would go good after a hearty meal," said the other. The young fellows gave it up.

"Would you like some coffee?" asked one of them.

"Sure," replied the girls in chorus, "that's what we was waiting for youse guys to ask us."—Philadelphia Record.

Reproductivity of Pearls

There is nothing new under the sun, and the idea of placing pearls in a bag with a little rice, and finding after many years that their numbers have increased, a very ancient practice, is claiming attention in the English press. That the rice has the appearance of being "pecked" adds a further touch of the familiar, and people are asking what kind of rice pearls like best. In the time of Boetius de Boot, the reproductivity not only of pearls but of diamonds was a common belief. The explanation that the pearls now occupying attention are vegetable pearls from the Malay states would not have satisfied Boetius.

"IT MIGHT Have Been NEWARK"

Last December when the coal strike was on, and government restrictions were in force regarding the use of coal, but two of the plants of the Ohio Power Company and its affiliating companies were allowed to continue operations.

ONE OF THESE TWO PLANTS WAS LOCATED in Newark. To close this plant meant the loss of employment to 18,000 men and no little suffering. This, however was the condition that actually faced Newark in December, 1919.

It was necessary for the common good that the government regulations be obeyed in letter as well as in spirit.

However far-sighted representatives of the Ohio Power company and the Newark Chamber of Commerce, saw and seized an opportunity of permitting the plant to operate and at the same time do faithful service for the government.

There was no evasion or deception and therefore when the Newark representatives faced the regional director of the railroads, this official said:

"Go ahead—Continue Operations. Quote Me As Authority."

This is but one function of YOUR Chamber of Commerce, "to protect the community, and save it from distress in emergencies."

MRS. LEEDS NOT ROYAL PRINCESS

Recent Marriage to Christopher of Greece Did Not Give Her That Status.

PRINCE RENOUNCES HIS RANK

American Woman's Only Title Now Is Countess Gluecksburg, Official Athens Gazette Says—Similar Cases Recalled.

New York.—Cable dispatches from Athens effectively contradict the assumption that Mrs. William B. Leeds, through her recent marriage to Prince Christopher, youngest brother of former King Constantine of Greece, acquired the status of a princess of the blood and the title of "Royal Highness." The latest issues of the Official Gazette of Athens publish an announcement, by the Hellenic government, in the name of the crown, that Prince Christopher, before he married Mrs. Leeds, was obliged to renounce his rank as a prince of the sovereign house of Greece and his place in the line of succession to the throne. The renunciation automatically erased his name from the official roster of the princes and princesses of the royal house.

Renounces Danish Rank.

Nor was this the only renunciation that the prince was compelled to make in order to obtain the consent of his brother, the present King Alexander, and the consent of the Hellenic government. He was a royal prince of Denmark, and he was obliged to renounce his Danish royal rank and his place in the line of Danish succession. His father, the late King George, assassinated at Salonika in 1913, was a prince of the reigning house of Denmark prior to his election to the throne of Greece. He was so apprehensive as to the tenure of his kingship in Greece that he required the protecting powers, Great Britain, France and Russia, to guarantee him an income of $80,000 a year as long as he lived, and to permit him to retain his royal rank and status in the house of Denmark. All of his sons and grandsons continue, therefore, to rank as princes of Denmark, all except Christopher. The king and government of Denmark agreed to give their consent to the marriage only after this further renunciation.

According to the Official Gazette, the former Prince Christopher was rewarded for the various surrenders of royal rank with the consent of the kings and governments of Greece and Denmark to the union with Mrs. Leeds and with the rank of count in the Danish nobility. His title is now Count Gluecksburg, and that is the only title that the former Mrs. Leeds may lay claim to. She is not a princess of either Greece or Denmark, and on her appearance at any monarchical court would have to be content with the title of Countess Gluecksburg.

A Similar Case.

A former instance of similar renunciation occurred when Prince Aage of Denmark, eldest son of Prince Waldemar and of Princess Marie of France, married the daughter of Count Calvi di Bergolo, minister plenipotentiary of Italy at Copenhagen. He was not permitted to marry the girl he loved until he surrendered his royal rank and right of succession and had accepted the rank of ordinary noble with the title of Count Rosenberg.

Still another case was that of Prince Frederick of Schleswig-Holstein, who fell in love with Miss Mary Esther Lee of New York and was not permitted to marry her, as he did in 1904, until he had definitely renounced his status and prerogatives as a prince of the blood. Still another instance was that of Duke Henry Borwin of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, who married the former Miss Elizabeth Pratt of Kingston, N. Y., at Dover, England, in 1911. The marriage was declared invalid in 1913 by the Supreme Court of the Grand Duchy because it was held that the duke had evaded and violated the laws of his country by marrying without official sanction.

In all the long list of American women that have married foreigners of rank and title, only one, Miss Alice Heine of New Orleans, ever entered the royal circle. Her first husband was Armand, Duc de Richelieu, and after his death she became the consort of Albert, prince of Monaco, a ruling sovereign in his own right.

RULING ON COMPENSATION.

Members of the army and naval reserve forces who have disabilities which occurred in line of duty, may make application for compensation and for public health service care, in the same manner that regularly discharged men do.

The local Red Cross handles the proper blanks and will give any needed assistance in filing these claims. The office is in room 806 Newark Trust building, Phone No. 1870.
